NONPROFIT ADMINISTRATION GRADUATE CREDIT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Learning Outcomes

- 1. Explain the key issues in administration (leadership challenges strategic planning fundraising, volunteer management, evaluation and accountability, fundraising, government contracting) and its importance for nonprofit organizations.
- Describe the unique role that nonprofit organization play in the society as independent organizations and collaborators in various capacity.
- 3. Identify and describe the unique challenges that nonprofit organization face in managing the external environment as well as internal organizational issues.
- Apply knowledge and skills learned about leadership, management and fundraising to address the critical issues of resource development and management of organizations.