INFORMATION SCIENCE

Learning Outcomes

- 1. KNOW: Graduates will be able to understand the information needs of organizations and identify optimal IT solutions.
- APPLY: Graduates will be able to apply known and emerging information systems theories and principles to improve and enhance deployed IT solutions
- APPLY: Graduates will design and maintain practically viable solutions to support information retrieval, data analysis, and decisionmaking
- 4. COMMUNICATE: Graduates will be able to effectively communicate their technical perspective solutions to diverse audience.
- THINK: Graduates will able to identify the security concerns of and determine effective protection solutions to organizational information assets
- PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE: Graduates will demonstrate knowledge of and ability to practice the professional standards of IT professional behavior.